The Library 100 – Top Novels of All Time

Extensive research by the staff at WebJunction, a website devoted to library education, resulted in the creation of a list of novels which more libraries have on their shelves than any others. The list can be found at <https://www.oclc.org/en/worldcat/library100.html>.

Learn more about the research and explore the supporting resources designed to help with programming ideas in your library at Resources to Encourage Reading with the Library 100 List.
